

Stop Hallowe'en Property Damage

Police, Realtors and Burgess Ask Children To Cooperate

Pupils of all parochial and public schools in Haverford Township, Narberth Borough and Lower Merion Township are being asked to cooperate with police, realtors, residents and merchants in preventing property damage when Hallowe'en is celebrated this year.

In Haverford the appeal was made by Superintendent of Police Samuel Siegle; in Narberth by Burgess Richard Miller and in Lower Merion by G. Forde Hansell, president of the Main Line Board of Realtors.

"Police as usual," declared Superintendent Siegle, "plan for a rigid enforcement of all laws which prohibits property damage and unjustified disturbances. Children, to whom this holiday celebration means a great deal, can help us and have a better time themselves by refraining from destructive pranks."

Burgess Miller expressed the appreciation of Borough officials for cooperation in previous years and said that it was more important this year that their Hallowe'en celebrations be kept within legal bounds.

Declared Hansell in a letter to George H. Golbert, principal of the Lower Merion Senior High School:

"Each year at Hallowe'en property owners and real estate brokers of the Main Line suffer a heavy and unnecessary loss, loss through the defacing of property and the destruction of signs."

"We earnestly ask the wholehearted cooperation of your student body in making this a year when private property will be under their special protection."

"This request is being made to all public, private and parochial schools along the Main Line."

Pennsylvania — First in the Nation's Scrap Drive

The advisory committee on salvage of the State Council of Defense, through its chairman, Warren R. Roberts, and its executive secretary, issues the following message to the publishers and editors of Pennsylvania's newspapers:

"Through the efforts of the newspapers of this State, in what was known as the Newspapers' Metal Scrap Drive, approximately a half million tons of scrap metals were collected within the last three weeks to keep the steel mills of this State operating at full capacity throughout the winter months on the manufacture of war materials."

"We were most happy to have this assistance from the press and our Salvage Committees everywhere gave the newspapers every possible help. It was through this fine cooperation that Pennsylvania, as the campaign closed on Saturday night, went into first position among the states of the nation with a per capita collection of 96.6 pounds. We believe that this figure will be increased as final collection figures will be estimated."

"To the publishers and editors, we want to say: Thank you for what you have done. You have lightened our burden, and made Pennsylvania scrap-conscious."

"But our job is for the duration of the war. We must continue to collect scrap metals, rubber, rags, tin cans and household fats until we have achieved Victory over the Axis."

"We ask your continued cooperation and support until our job is done. We know that you will not fail us."

Junior Red Cross To Begin Drive

The 25th Anniversary of the Junior Red Cross will be celebrated this fall in their new drive for enrollment beginning November 1. In these critical times the nation needs the constructive services of every boy and girl of school age. Their membership in the Red Cross helps the nation's total war effort by giving every boy and girl an opportunity to serve in many ways which will contribute to civilian health, safety and morale and to the welfare of the men and women in the armed forces.

Bailey Receives Signal Corps Rank

Guy D. Bailey, Jr., Narberth, has been commissioned second lieutenant in the U. S. Signal Corps after completing a course of study at Fort Monmouth, N. J. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy D. Bailey, 30 Narberth Park. He received his commission on October 16.

New Heads At Library

The Narberth Community Library has two new members on its staff, Miss Elizabeth A. Patman and Miss Madeline Hamlet.

Miss Patman, head librarian, is a graduate of Swarthmore College and Drexel Institute School of Library Science. She has been with the Wayne, Bryn Mawr and Drexel Institute libraries.

Miss Hamlet, assistant librarian, has been a substitute in the Narberth Library for several months. She is a graduate of Lower Merion High School, and has been with the Bryn Mawr Public and College libraries.

Defense Rules for Xmas Lighting

Permissible But Must Conform to Blackout Requirements

Christmas lighting of stores, homes and streets will be permissible but all installations must conform to blackout regulations, according to a bulletin released by the State Council of Defense this week.

A. C. Martz, the Council's executive director said, "If present conditions continue to prevail, outdoor decorative Christmas lighting will be permissible, provided lights can be extinguished at all times immediately upon notice."

He said there were no restrictions on the size of lamps, the color of the lamp and the grouping of illuminated decorations.

The bulletin quoted three blackout regulations which applied to Christmas lighting:

1. Christmas lighting on stores and store fronts shall be connected into the blackout switch which is operated from an accessible position at the front of the store.

2. At least two responsible persons shall be delegated with the responsibility for operating each blackout switch in order to guarantee prompt extinguishment of the lights in any emergency.

3. Decorative lighting of homes, both inside and outside, will be permissible provided some responsible person of the household is on the premises who can and will turn off all lighting in an emergency.

Insurance Checks For Municipalities

Three municipalities in this suburban area will receive checks from the Fire Insurance Tax Fund of the State. The checks are paid to the townships and boroughs but are turned over to the relief associations of the fire companies.

Haverford Township will receive $743.38; Narberth Borough $682.22 and Lower Merion Township $4,500.67.

More than 1450 municipalities through the Commonwealth will receive similar checks. The current payment is the largest in the history of the Fire Insurance Tax Fund.

Manoa Celebrates Championship

Manoa A. A., three times champion in the Main Line Baseball League, celebrated the event with a banquet at the Club Del Rio Wednesday night.

The trophy was presented by Walter Hanley, president of the League. Speakers included J. Herbert Good, vice-president of the League, and Charles M. Dill, president of the Haverford Township Board of Commissioners.

Players and members of the Association were present.

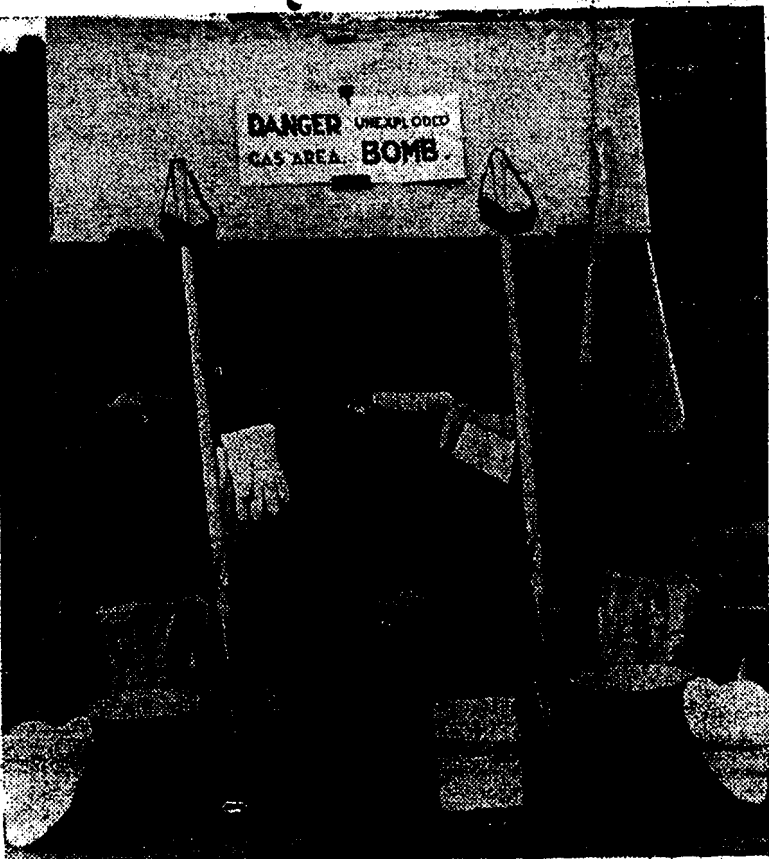

Junior Army Collects 96,597 Pounds Of Scrap

The 120 Narberth Public School children, organized into a Junior Army, have collected 96,597 pounds of scrap.

Figures show that canvassers in the third grade were responsible for 1052 pounds; seven canvassers in the fourth grade collected 8221 pounds; 20 fifth graders were responsible for 17,110 pounds. The 15 pupils in the sixth grade reported 9011 pounds; 38 seventh graders 21,982 pounds; 35 eighth graders 39,221 pounds. Their collections covered iron, steel, rubber, copper, brass, bronze, aluminum, zinc, lead and rags.

Recommended As Standard Equipment

Air raid wardens in Sector 10 of the Borough knew what they wanted in the way of a hand-drawn fire-fighting cart. So Sterling M. Chain, sector warden; George Passfield and Frank Hardecastle got their ideas and tools together and built a portable cart on bicycle wheels. The cart is five feet long and 40 inches wide and at present is being stored at the Berkley Apartments. They say it "pulls very easy" and, according to their estimate, it would only cost each sector of Narberth $90 a piece to duplicate it. In the picture from left to right are Chief Air Raid Warden Joseph L. Kelley, Chain and Hardecastle. The little warden, in front, who borrowed the News photographer's steel helmet, is "Rusty" Chain. The equipment consists of two of each of the following: red lantern, shovels, helmets, pairs of long gloves, goggles, fire pails, bags of "tat" extinguisher and fine spray brass nozzles, one hand sprayer, First Aid kit and 100 feet of clothes-line rope.

The lettering was done by Marjorie Cowan, commercial artist.

Register for Blackout Driving Course

Members of the various services of the Lower Merion Council of Defense are registering for the new course in blackout driving now being offered by the Citizens Defense Corps under the instruction of Mrs. Frank Reese of Ardmore.

The course consists of two sessions, the first covering instruction in map reading, how to find locations around blocked roads and blackout driving; the second covering instruction in skill driving.

The first course will begin November 5, at 7:30 p. m. in the Library of the Ardmore Junior High School.

Change Date For Boy Scout Dinner

A change in the date of the Boy Scout District Dinner to November 16 instead of November 6 has been announced by C. Summer Davis, Haverford, chairman.

It was felt that this date would be suitable to the largest number of Scout officials of the Main Line district. The event will be held at the Ardmore Presbyterian Church, Montgomery av. and Mill Creek rd.

The affair will serve in part as a testimonial to the work of Rex I. Gary, former Scout executive of the Delaware-Montgomery County Council, who is now a major in the United States Army, attached to the office of procurement. Major Gary did much to bring the local council to a position as one of the best in the nation.

Arthur W. Binns will be a featured speaker. The program will include a novel graphic demonstration of the part played by Boy Scouts in the war.

All officials of the Main Line district, including troop leaders and troop committeemen, are invited.

Christmas Cartons

For the last several weeks OUR TOWN has suggested that the cartons for the Service Men's Christmas gifts might be donated.

The result is that a local resident will provide more than 300 extra-strong containers without cost to the general fund.

They comply in every way with the regulations and are so constructed that delivery even to the farthest off destination is well assured.

This generous gesture adds considerably to the excellent spirit of the notable occasion.

Presbyterians Close Conference

Church Supports Missionaries in Brazil, Chile, and New Mexico

Rev. Lester J. Soerheide will address the Young People's Dinner at the Sixth Annual Missionary Conference this Friday evening at the Narberth Presbyterian Church. Mr. Soerheide is pastor of the Friendship Presbyterian Church of Manchester, Clay County, Kentucky. He will also speak at the morning worship of the church Sunday, October 25.

The Hilltop Branch of Christian Endeavor is cooperating with the Conference Dinner and representatives from the ten church members plan to attend. Mr. William Armstrong, president, will preside. The dinner will be supervised by Mrs. E. Nelson.

The goal for the missionary offering at the Sunday morning service is $1000. For the past five years this October missionary offering has surpassed the same goal. Narberth Church supports three full time missionaries in Chile, Brazil and New Mexico as well as assisting with the work of the Medellin Bible College, Medellin, Columbia, South America and the Christian Approach to the Jews in Philadelphia.

Council Approves Rehabilitation Plan

At the request of Bullock-Sanderson Post, American Legion, the Lower Merion Council of Defense at its meeting Tuesday afternoon approved the Post's movement for rehabilitation of men rejected for service in the armed forces by reason of a curable disability.

H. Sibley Lee of the Legion Post is chairman of the committee of physicians, dentists and others cooperating in making fit for military service men who have failed to meet the requirements of the Selective Service. Dr. Douglas MacFarlan is technical advisor.

Merion Property Sold

Nash Realty Company reports the sale of property 712 S. Bowman Ave., Merion, for C. Edwin Drueiding and wife to Francis L. Petrikin. Property was sold for $13,000.

'Bob'Squire Wins WarBond In Letter Writing Contest

Robert M. Squier, 198 Woodbine av., and pupil of Narberth Public School since 1936, won the $25 War Bond which was offered by the Gifts for Service Men Committee for expressing in the most fitting manner the sentiments which are to accompany the Christmas Boxes to be sent to the members of the Armed Forces from Narberth.

The contest was characterized by a lively interest, nearly 150 boys and girls submitting entries, and the report is that the judges were obliged to choose with rare skill from numerous letters of considerably more than ordinary merit.

The winner, who is one of the popular lads of the Borough, is familiarly known as "Bob" and is now in the Seventh Grade.

His letter, it was noted, had that particular warmth of feeling that the committee sought, and its appropriate spirit was translated into the plain phrases which the judges regarded as the natural utterances

Overseas Xmas Kits Ready To Mail; Contributions Now Total $1889.60

List Committee To Publish Names Of Soldiers Next Week; Each Box To Contain At Least Ten Items

The work of wrapping, packing and mailing the Christmas Boxes for the men from Narberth who are in the Armed Forces is now underway at a lively rate and it is expected those kits which are to go overseas will leave next week.

A Special Request To Kin Of Service Men

The Gifts for Service Men Committee does not have complete information regarding the addresses of Narberth's service men. Letters were sent to relatives of all those on the list, along with a return postal card, but quite a few overlooked sending in the necessary data.

The Christmas Boxes will be quite worthwhile and the men at the Camps and War fronts are sure to welcome them, but... they obviously cannot be sent unless a proper address is furnished.

The Committee is further handicapped in securing a complete mailing list by the fact that in numerous cases the Service Men's families cannot be reached by telephone... and there is not sufficient time to make personal visits.

The Committee wants to do a thorough job — no man on the Service rolls from Narberth should be omitted — those who can do so are asked to accord the cooperation which is needed, please.

The Committee should also be informed at once if there is any change of address from that previously advised—many men are on the move, but there is a way of keeping at their heels, and new locations should be reported immediately.

The October men who left Narberth this week will also receive the Christmas boxes. Their families should report their addresses as soon as they are transferred from the induction camps, which is usually within a week after their arrival. It will not be possible, for inescapable reasons, to include the men who enter the Service after November 1, 1942. Address Gifts for Service Men Committee, or Telephone Narberth 26-83.

Soroptimists Plan Hallowe'en Party

The North Atlantic Region of the American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs will hold its regular conference on October 24, at the Hotel Barclay in Philadelphia, with the Philadelphia Club serving as Hostess Club. This one day meeting will replace "for the duration" the usual two-day conference of former years.

In addition to the President, Ursula Murray, several other members of the Main Line Club will be in attendance.

The regular meeting of the Main Line Soroptimist Club will be a Hallowe'en party on October 28 at the Haverford Court Hotel. Hostesses for the occasion are Lynda Gallaway, chairman, Vivian Noble, and Grace Filler.

Contagious Diseases

Three cases of contagious disease: whooping cough, were reported for the week ending October 16 by the Lower Merion health department. This makes a total of 1432 cases reported for the year. All the whooping cough cases developed in health district three, which includes Haverford, Ardmore and Wynnewood.

'Bob'Squire Wins WarBond In Letter Writing Contest

of a typical American boy who was well aware of what the men in the Armed Forces are doing and who had a genuine admiration for their selfless service.

The War Bond will be formally awarded to "Bob" at the assembly in the School Auditorium at noon, today, Friday, and the presentation will be made by Mrs. Robert Fellows Wood, chairman of the Board of Judges. The other judges were Miss Marguerite Campbell and Miss Fanny Loos.

The letter will be on exhibit the week of November 1 in the window of Ralph S. Dunne's coal office along with samples of the gifts which are to go in the Christmas Boxes. Ordinarily, it would be printed in the camps are getting the local paper and the committee wants no advance information to reach them regarding the specific contents of the big Christmas package.

If it is permitted by the regulations, OUR TOWN will print next week, without revealing their precise whereabouts, the list of local men who are in other parts of the world in the Country's service, and the summary is apt to be impressive to those who were not previously aware of the contribution which the Borough has made to the Expeditionary Forces.

All week long the merchandise has been flowing in, with Treasurer Carl B. Metzger, Jr., paying cash on the barrel-head on its arrival, the contributions which enable him to do so having amounted to the handsome sum of $1889.60, with probably more to come.

Each box will contain at least ten items, not one of which was selected from the customary stocks nor in the customary places, such garden variety articles not being regarded as up to the mark for the Narberth Warriors, as will or will not be glimpsed from this not to informative outline.

The main article is so wide and not quite so long, its dissimilitude from the second article being negligible with respect to the fact that neither of them is made of gutta percha nor has either a saw-tooth roof.

On the other hand, the third article is more longitudinal than otherwise, depending on who describes it and how little they know, differing from the fourth item on the score that the fifth gift has a bottom as well as a top.

The other five gifts also have qualities all their own, but perhaps it would be more to the point if they were set forth in catalog form and in the manner in which they were purchased, as follows:

CENSORED: There are too many of you fellows in the Service who are receiving OUR TOWN each week and so you will have to wait 'til Christmas before you learn what the boxes contain... but you'll be surprised!

However, for the benefit of the home-front which has so generously made the tribute possible, the gifts will be displayed in one of the store windows next week and it is believed they will be accorded general community approval.

The gift committee was comprised of Herbert J. Egnore, Joseph L. Kelly, James A. McCaffrey and Henry A. Smith.

Highly important is the work of the list committee, which must provide the last official address of each man in the Service, whether he is in or out of the country, and that's a task which requires considerable and close checking. The men are constantly on the move, but the women on the committee are right on the heels of all of them and there is little doubt there will be a 95 per cent delivery record on the several hundred packages which Narberth will send along to the camps and war-torn fronts.

The List Committee consists of: Mrs. J. J. Cabrey, chairman; Miss Kathryn E. Burgess, Mrs. F. Schrepfer, Mrs. H. A. Smith and Mrs. Juliet Squier.

The wrapping and packing committee is under the leadership of Mrs. Laura McCaffrey, who will be assisted by her co-members of the American Legion Auxiliary and also the following:

Miss Margaret Meisen, Miss Kathryn Heydler, Miss Margaret Loesch, Miss Helen Read, Miss Myrtle Gregory and Miss Catherine J. Derr.

As this committee will have to provide appropriate wrappings for about 3000 articles, and to pack them in safe-arrival manner, it is evident it has plenty work cut out for it.

The addressing and mailing committee will be directed by Thomas F. Merkle, who will share the large job of carefully inscribing and affixing about 600 labels (two on each carton) with Mrs. Henry A. Frye, Mrs. Chas. McCarter and Mrs. Wm. H. Durbin. A rather involved postage and insurance problem will also add to the tasks of Mr. Merkle's committee.

Postmaster Joseph L. Kelley is endeavoring to arrange with the Washington authorities so that the overseas packages will pass through without benefit of censors, so that the original packing will not be disturbed until it gets into the hands of the man to whom it is addressed.

CALLING THE TURN

Twice a week Radnor High School opens its gymnasium to the public free-of-charge. Young and old alike can shoot baskets, play volleyball or badminton, or work on the apparatus to their heart's content.

Norristown also has open house twice a week at Stewart and Rittenhouse Junior High Schools. In addition both of these school gyms are used twice weekly Norristown Community basketball leagues, which are sponsored and supervised by the Norristown Recreation Board.

On nights at Radnor and Norristown are patronized largely by young men in defense industries. Most of them are working seven days a week and it's about the only real recreation they can get. Unquestionably, the opening of these gyms is a definite contribution to the war effort and the Radnor and Norristown school boards deserve high praise for their foresight and promptness in recognizing a community need.

So far we have heard nothing of Lower Merion and Haverford following suit. If they should open their gyms once or twice a week we're sure they'd be well patronized. It wouldn't be difficult to secure the necessary volunteer supervisors. How about it?

The Worms Turn

One of the most satisfying features of the schoolboy football season to date is the showing of Lansdowne and Berwyn, one-time doormats of the Suburban Conference.

Lansdowne went through three and a half seasons without victory, didn't score a point over half this stretch. Berwyn dropped 26 consecutive games. Today both are undefeated and are in the front ranks of the title contenders in their respective counties.

Lansdowne hurdled one of its biggest barriers when it nosed out Upper Merion, 2-0, last Saturday. It was the Garnet and Gray's first victory over the Royals in eight years. The Lords have a good chance of getting by Springfield, Sharon Hill, Haverford and Yeadon. If they do they'll probably be fighting for the Delco crown when they meet Swarthmore on Thanksgiving Day. The latter also is undefeated.

Berwyn, held to a tie by Upper Merion last Saturday, faces its toughest assignment this week when it plays host to Coatesville. The latter has lost only to Ben Franklin of the Philadelphia Public Conference and holds decisions over Lancaster and John Harris of the highly touted Big 15 Conference.

Should Berwyn upset Coatesville it would become an even choice to take its first Chester County crown since 1933.

Gene Davis Returns

SHORT PUNTS—Narberth residents are keenly interested in Friday night's meeting of the Temple and the North Carolina Naval Cadets at the Owl stadium. Reason: One of the borough's favorite sons, Gene Davis, Jr., former Penn Captain, is quarterback of the Naval eleven. When Coach Clipper Smith and his aides hurried across the Shibe Park gridiron last Saturday after handing Florida its first defeat, 13-3, they were met by Tom Leib, Florida coach, whose only comment on the game was: "That's the worst officiating I've ever seen anywhere. Don't worry you'll get yours next week." The Wildcats are in Dixie this week for a date with Auburn. Last year Auburn defeated the Main Liners, 13-0.

With Art Jones, former all-scholastic back from Haverford High, contributing all the touchdowns, Haverford College crushed Drexel, 18-0, for its third straight last Saturday. John Hopkins, a 38-0 victim of Haverford last year, comes to Walton Field this week. Coach Roy Randall evidently has one of the better small college teams in the East. Chances of an undefeated season hinge on games with Wesleyan, Hamilton and Swarthmore. Most Haverford would readily accept defeat at the hands of the first two opponents if it would mean a victory over Swarthmore. The traditional series with the Garnet was renewed last year after a long break and Swarthmore won, 12-7, in an upset. Small wonder the Scarlet and Black is revenge-minded.

Due to the rationing of fuel oil, it is quite possible most high school basketball games will be played in the afternoons this year. Abington High fans are glad the Ghosts haven't any more dates on the Main Line this season. The York Roaders hadn't recovered from that 41-6 shellacking at the hands of Lower Merion when Episcopal Academy added insult to injury by upsetting the Snodgrass-coached team, 13-6, last Friday.

Incidentally, it's about time the city scribes wake up and give Ray Keegan, Episcopal coach, his due. His teams have won two consecutive Interac crowns and his present club is undefeated. He's an Ardmore resident, by the way.

Rotary Governor

The Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club next Tuesday will welcome Charles W. Churchman, governor of the 179th district of Rotary International. Churchman is associated with his father in the conducting of the Churchman College, Easton, and is a member of the Rotary Club of Easton.

Mr. Churchman will visit the Rotary Club to advise and assist. President Dr. F. Monroe Purse and Secretary Dr. E. R. Disbrow, Jr., and the committeemen of the club on matters pertaining to club administration and Rotary service activities.

Assure Night Games—Heat or No Heat

Heat or no heat high school teams in Section 1 of the Suburban Basketball Conference will play their games at night. Coaches of the teams decided at a recent meeting to take a chance on what the war may bring in the way of fuel oil or if necessary play in lower temperatures. At a time, there was some talk of playing the games in the afternoon. Lower Merion and Haverford High Schools both play in this section.

2 Health Centers To Close Nov. 1

Civic Assn. Committee Says Attendance Has Fallen Off

The Child Health Centers of Manoa and Oakmont will close on November 1. Action on this matter was taken at the meeting of the health committee of the Community Health and Civic Association, due to the decrease in attendance at both centers in the past year.

Dr. Joseph E. Sands, chairman of the Health Committee, stated that if at anytime there is a demand for his service the organization would resume these Centers.

The Oakmont Center is located in the Oakmont Public School with the members of the Oakmont-South Ardmore Woman's Club serving as volunteers. Manoa's Center is in Odd Fellows Hall, West Chester pike, and the volunteers are members of the American Legion Auxiliary, Manoa. Representatives of both organizations will continue to serve on the nursing and health committee of the Community Health and Civic Association.

To Expand Program

As Girl Scouts of Philadelphia and Montgomery Counties bring the Ninth Annual Cookie Sale to a close all available boxes are sold. The record breaking number of boxes is 180,000, the Main Line accounting for over 16,000 of the total! This large figure translated represents 37½ tons of cookies.

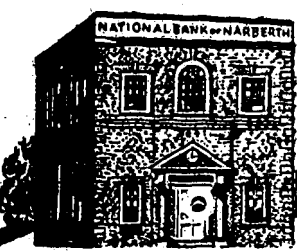

Mrs. Frank Praeger, chairman, attributes the success of the sale to the setting of a goal and quotas for each troop and girl. Actually, 200,000 boxes could have been sold had not the Company making the cookies been forced to stop their manufacture due to lack of material. Any delay in delivery of cookies experienced by local communities has been due to the difficulties of the company in getting enough material to make the cookies and in securing cellophane wrapping upon which the Government has now placed a priority.

The earnings from the sale will augment the grant from the United Charities Campaign and help finance the Scouting program. Girl Scouting is directly concerned with Civilian Defense; and girls in increasing numbers are needing and wanting what it offers. The financial success of the Cookie Sale means that the Girl Scouts of Philadelphia, of which the Main Line is a part, can meet their budget and expand their program.

News of BALA-CYNWYD Junior High

by JANE HANSCOM and FLORENCE HICKMAN

Honorable Arthur H. James, Governor of Pennsylvania; Mr. Burlington, president of the school board, and Mr. Dubois, our superintendent of schools, were guests of honor at a dinner given in the Academy Building of the Bala-Cynwyd Junior High School. They were received by Senator and Mrs. Edmunds, Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert and the Lower Merion School Board.

Miss Myers, Miss Wenger, and Mrs. Peck, of the home economics department, were in charge of the dinner. Mary Ann Wilson, Mary Jo Mason, Ellen Meyers, Agnes Latini, Nancy Greene, Marilyn Eby, Patricia Billough and Patricia Stroup prepared and served the dinner.

A great majority of B. C.'s student body were in the auditorium when the local air raid alarm sounded on October 14. Although the test came as a complete surprise the students were previously prepared by school drills. After securing their coats, they formed lines along the walls of the hallways according to home-room posts. The faculty was pleased with the student cooperation.

A review series was held for those who took a course in First Aid last year, so that these students can help to train a new group. The

First Aiders with the highest ratings will be assigned to posts for emergency duty and will report there during all air raids or practices.

Bala-Cynwyd was honored to have an invitation for the school band to play at the dedication of a service flag. This flag will be presented on Sunday, October 18, to the boys from West Manayunk who are in the armed forces of the United States.

Nurses Needed

The Red Cross First Reserve is the chief recruiting agency for both the Army and the Navy Nurses. All graduates from accredited schools between the ages of 21 and 40, in good health and unmarried are eligible.

This means nurses are needed for overseas spots in England, Ireland, Iceland, Australia, India and China. It also means that registered nurses who have retired should return to the hospitals at home in order to release active nurses for overseas.

Colorful Velveteen Is Smart For 'Dating' or Classroom

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

It is a triumphant program that fashion designers are predicting for velveteen this fall and winter. Enchanting colors, sturdy texture, the dress-up appearance it always makes, together with its wearableness from the utilitarian standpoint, its adaptability to versatile styling for everyone from tiny tots to fashion-minded grownups! the fact that it is not affected by the priority rulings, and many more of its virtues that might be cited, all contribute to the glory and triumph of velveteen in the fabric realm today.

The wardrobe that does not make a goodly showing of gay and handsome velveteen fashions this fall and winter will be the exception rather than the rule. So velveteen-conscious have style creators become they are vying with each other to see who can turn out the most attractive velveteen fashions. Nor does their enthusiasm end with the use of velveteen for dresses, coats and suits, for velveteen is also playing a stellar role in the accessory "feld."

There's a big thrill awaiting you in the stunning accessory ensembles which milliners are displaying with utmost pride. For a grand and glorious uplift to your fall suit or coat you'll find that a hat and bag two-some will come nothing short of proving ideal. These velveteen sets are to be had in lush colors that carry flattery to the nth degree. You can get a beret and underarm bag made of velveteen, or a chic "padre" hat over the brim of which sweeps a colorful pheasant feather. Later you will be seeing muffs, bag and hat threesomes, so be on the lookout for these beguiling velveteen fantasies.

The styles pictured are utterly convincing as to the charm and the style prestige which makes velveteen one of the most to be desired fabrics that fashion has to offer this season.

There is an important style message in the dress to the left in the group illustrated above in that it is made of check-and-double-check velveteen. It's a lovable gown to wear to "dates" and really as practical to wear to class. This handsome check-printed velveteen does honor to the cotton textile theme, for that's what it is, one of those stunning cotton materials which are a persuasive argument in favor of adopting smart cottons for winter and fall as well as spring and summer wear. This classic shirtwaist model achieves a new look with its pepped skirt that brings discreet and flattering fullness to the fore. Unusual blouse fastenings clip on and off like the buttons on a military uniform. You can vision this dress in rich autumn green or brown or the new fuchsia tone, but there's no end to the colors available.

Shown to the right in the above picture is a swank and practical "date" costume made of spruce green velveteen, with the new hip-bone jacket length. The scallop treatment is most beguiling. Be it said also of this costume, as well as its two companion fashions, that they have been made to conform to the government fabric-saving program in every detail as issued direct from the Office of War Information. For downright practicality and the utmost chic and charm, here is a costume that will measure up perfectly to every requirement.

Another velveteen charmer is centered in the above illustration. It is just the sort that carries college girl appeal with its dirndl-front skirt, pockets and studded belt that is so smartly colorful. Speaking of school-girl fashions, there is nothing smarter or more practical than a velveteen jumper dress with which you can wear a different blouse every day if you so choose. Bright red velveteen is a first selection, or the new purple.

Hat and Bag Ensembles Are Simply Irresistible

It is going to be a case of "must have" when you see the lovely and cunningly designed hat and bag sets made of superbly colorful velveteen which are so conspicuously present in this fall's millinery displays.

You will find that these perfectly charming two-somes of bright velveteen are just what you have been looking for not only from the standpoint of flattery, for the hats in such beautiful colors "do something for you" at the same time that they add a new note of glamour to even the simplest suit or costume with which they are worn, but also for their practical qualities. These hat and bag ensembles can "take it."

Ewing Resigns as Commissioner

Two Roads Taken Over And Inspector Appointed

The Lower Merion Township governing board on Wednesday night accepted the resignation of Samuel E. Ewing, Jr., commissioner from the West Bryn Mawr District.

Ewing, a first lieutenant in the U. S. Army, is stationed in Washington, D. C. He has been in military service for nearly two years.

Commissioners will consider petitions from residents of the district in making the appointment. If the appointment is not made by the township board within 30 days it automatically goes to Montgomery County Court for action.

At the same meeting commissioners passed an ordinance which provides for paving, grading, draining and curbing of a section of Academy rd. in Cynwyd.

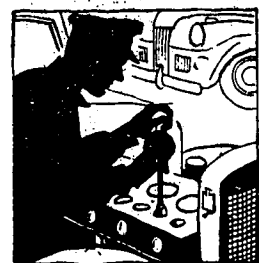

They also approved the taking over and improving Sussex rd., between Argyle rd. and Knox rd., and Lakeside rd., between Sussex and Wynnewood rds. in Wynnewood.

THIS is our thirty-fifth year of active, retail shoe business in Philadelphia. It is the fifty-sixth year of my active engagement in that business. The portraits above show you all members of our firm. They have been reproduced to send to many shoe manufacturers in the United States. These represent the best shoemaking in the country and have always made our shoes according to our own specifications, as dictated by experience and knowledge in the kinds of leathers we have always demanded.

In this lies our success for, after all, we know more about what Philadelphians need and want than some manufacturer in a distant city. Our shoes are not like other shoes. They have a combination of materials selected by us as a result of years of rich experience. They are not built just to please the eye. In all cases they are built for long wearing quality in a vast range of sizes and are fitted to your feet by a professional fitting service that cannot be surpassed. That is why our store has come to be known as America's Master Shoe Store.

Thousands of men and women who have entered the military and civilian services of our country have found that our Shoor-Tred system of foot control has given them sturdy, efficient feet. Every day, officers—both male and female come into our store and say:

"There is nothing wrong with my feet. My shoes have been bought here ever since I was a baby."

As for quality, we never shirk paying extra for something that is better. We have not based our shoes on a nation-wide psychological price range. Our shoes are made according to the Geuting standard and we know no other standard. As Markham well said in his famous poem on the shoemaker, as quoted above.

When the last depression overtook us, thousands of firms went out of business. With courage we have stuck to the moral of this poem and have emerged from the worst economic debacle the United States has ever gone through with the largest shoe store and the greatest specialized shoe business in the United States.

We are serving many families even unto the third generation. We have nearly one hundred thousand of the best families of Philadelphia on our books. Sometimes, they try other stores but they usually come back to the Master Shoe Store.

Here we take the shoe business seriously. We do not sell shoes as handkerchiefs are sold but treat the shoe business as a profession. We do not hesitate to say there is not a thing in the tanning of leather or the knowledge of shoe-making, in any of the difficult problems that confront us in caring for distorted feet, that we do not know how to handle.

The Geuting idea precluded imitating others. It made one of its important foundation stones a policy of origination, of creation, of invention. Many such ideas it never protected though they might have made fortunes for their creators.

There has been one exception and only one.

The Geuting patented, protected Shoor-Tred last. There is none more perfect. It has no peer in the all-important task of guiding the yielding, malleable feet of infants and little children to perfect growth, to health, to strength and, therefore, to efficiency and beauty.

These are some of the reasons why families dealing with the Geuting stores in Philadelphia, Ardmore and Germantown have done so since the day of its foundation; why they come back again and again and again.

Salvage Campaign Nets 500 Tons; Children Start To Collect Tin Cans

Township Picks Up 300 Tons; Other Organizations 200; Salvage Money Will Be Turned into Defense Fund; Continued Support Asked

Lower Merion Township's Junk Rally, held in connection with the Pennsylvania Scrap Harvest and the Newspapers' Metal Scrap Drive, has resulted in the removal already to the scrap yards of more than 300 tons of vital materials.

An additional 200 tons has been collected by other organizations in the Township, Chairman Ralph E. Springer of the Salvage Committee reported Tuesday to the Lower Merion Council of Defense, and an estimated 100 tons more is still available in the district.

Of the more than 300 tons already moved to the yards between September 1 and October 17, 282,465 tons consist of metal scrap and 18.55 tons of rubber and rags.

Lower Merion school children are now beginning to add their efforts to this continued drive. Over the week-end they distributed pamphlets on the proper preparation of tin cans, and are now getting their sources worked up through families and neighbors for the collections as a project in elementary and Junior High Schools.

It is interesting to note that the effort of Lower Merion's citizens will prove a financial aid to the Township and its defense organization as well as a material aid to industry as a whole. The Lower Merion Commissioners have decided that moneys from salvage sales to the scrap yards are to be set up in the Township records as a civilian defense fund and allocated for defense needs.

Continued support and cooperation in the drive is still asked, however, for the job is for the duration of the war until victory is achieved over the Axis.

Pennsylvania's quota of iron and steel scrap to be collected before next December 31 was set at 3,000,000 tons. It is the estimate of the State Salvage Committee that, through fine cooperation, the job is two-thirds done. If correct, that means there is a million more tons to get in the next two months.

The Jephtha Abbott Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, announces that, owing to war conditions, the annual autumn dinner-dance will not be held this year.

Suburban train platforms certainly look different now!

1941. In the first 8 months, the four principal Philadelphia suburban divisions of the Pennsylvania Railroad carried 7,507,587 commuters and other passengers. Station platforms at peak hours were uncrowded — people boarded trains leisurely. It was not uncommon for a commuter to enjoy a double seat from his home station to destination.

Getting you to business, carrying workers to war industries, helping you and your neighbors save rubber and gas for your country—that's as much a part of our wartime job as moving troops and war materials.

And it's a job that grows bigger, as these figures indicate:

In January, when tire rationing began, Pennsylvania Railroad trains serving this Philadelphia suburban area carried 177,006 more passengers than in January 1941. An increase of 17 per cent.

But in August, under the full impact of over-all restrictions on driving and with war industry payrolls growing—these Philadelphia suburban trains carried 598,134 more passengers than in the previous August. An increase of approximately 75 per cent!

To date this greatly increased travel has been handled comfortably and smoothly. Trains that ran half-full in pre-war years now fill up. Sometimes people have had to stand—that is, in peak hours; but usually only for short distances.

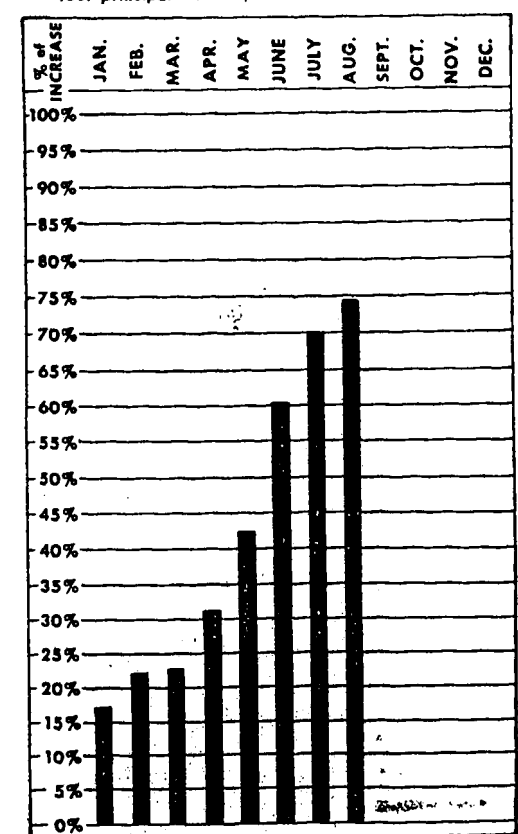

As for the future: new passenger cars no longer can be built—the steel is needed for war. So we must do with what we have.

Right now, we keep a day-to-day record on every train. We shift, add or subtract cars as needs fluctuate. We maintain close contact with war industries in order to set up schedules and equipment most convenient for their workers. We shall cooperate in all ways possible to meet the necessities of commuters as best we can under changing wartime conditions.

But if occasionally you should be inconvenienced, we trust you will understand that we are doing our best under circumstances beyond our control.

Look how Suburban train travel has increased since Jan. 1, 1942

Chart shows percentage increase of passengers over corresponding month last year on four principal Philadelphia suburban divisions.

Stop Hallowe'en Property Damage

Police, Realtors and Burgess Ask Children To Cooperate

Pupils of all parochial and public schools in Haverford Township, Narberth Borough and Lower Merion Township are being asked to cooperate with police, realtors, residents and merchants in preventing property damage when Hallowe'en is celebrated this year.

In Haverford the appeal was made by Superintendent of Police Samuel Siegle; in Narberth by Burgess Richard Miller and in Lower Merion by G. Porde Hansell, president of the Main Line Board of Realtors.

"Police as usual," declared Superintendent Siegle, "plan for a rigid enforcement of all laws which prohibits property damage and unjustified disturbances. Children, to whom this holiday celebration means a great deal, can help us and have a better time themselves by refraining from destructive pranks."

Burgess Miller expressed the appreciation of Borough officials for cooperation in previous years and said that it was more important this year that their Hallowe'en celebrations be kept within legal bounds.

Declared Hansell in a letter to George H. Golbert, principal of the Lower Merion Senior High School:

"Each year at Hallowe'en property owners and real estate brokers of the Main Line suffer a heavy and unnecessary loss, loss through the defacing of property and the destruction of signs.

"We earnestly ask the wholehearted cooperation of your student body in making this a year when private property will be under their special protection."

"This request is being made to all public, private and parochial schools along the Main Line."

Pennsylvania — First in the Nation's Scrap Drive

The advisory committee on salvage of the State Council of Defense, through its chairman, Warren R. Roberts, and its executive secretary, issues the following message to the publishers and editors of Pennsylvania's newspapers:

"Through the efforts of the newspapers of this State, in what was known as the Newspapers' Metal Scrap Drive, approximately a half million tons of scrap metals were collected within the last three weeks to keep the steel mills of this State operating at full capacity throughout the winter months on the manufacture of war materials.

"We were most happy to have this assistance from the press and our Salvage Committees everywhere gave the newspapers every possible help. It was through this fine cooperation that Pennsylvania, as the campaign closed on Saturday night, went into first position among the states of the nation with a per capita collection of 96.6 pounds. We believe that this figure will be increased as final collection figures will be estimated.

"To the publishers and editors, we want to say: Thank you for what you have done. You have lightened our burden, and made Pennsylvania scrap-conscious.

"But our job is for the duration of the war. We must continue to collect scrap metals, rubber, rags, tin cans and household fats until we have achieved Victory over the Axis.

"We ask your continued cooperation and support until our job is done. We know that you will not fail us."

Junior Red Cross To Begin Drive

The 25th Anniversary of the Junior Red Cross will be celebrated this fall in their new drive for enrollment beginning November 1. In these critical times the nation needs the constructive services of every boy and girl of school age. Their membership in the Red Cross helps the nation's total war effort by giving every boy and girl an opportunity to serve in many ways which will contribute to civilian health, safety and morale and to the welfare of the men and women in the armed forces.

Bailey Receives Signal Corps Rank

Guy D. Bailey, Jr., Narberth, has been commissioned second lieutenant in the U. S. Signal Corps after completing a course of study at Fort Monmouth, N. J. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy D. Bailey, 30 Narberth Park. He received his commission on October 16.

New Heads At Library

The Narberth Community Library has two new members on its staff, Miss Elizabeth A. Patman and Miss Madeline Hamlet.

Miss Patman, head librarian, is a graduate of Swarthmore College and Drexel Institute School of Library Science. She has been with the Wayne, Bryn Mawr and Drexel Institute libraries.

Miss Hamlet, assistant librarian, has been a substitute in the Narberth Library for several months. She is a graduate of Lower Merion High School, and has been with the Bryn Mawr Public and College Libraries.

Defense Rules for Xmas Lighting

Permissible But Must Conform to Blackout Requirements

Christmas lighting of stores, homes and streets will be permissible but all installations must conform to blackout regulations, according to a bulletin released by the State Council of Defense this week.

A. C. Martz, the Council's executive director said, "If present conditions continue to prevail, outdoor decorative Christmas lighting will be permissible, provided lights can be extinguished at all times immediately upon notice."

He said there were no restrictions on the size of lamps, the color of the lamp and the grouping of illuminated decorations.

The bulletin quoted three blackout regulations which applied to Christmas lighting:

1. Christmas lighting on stores and store fronts shall be connected into the blackout switch which is operated from an accessible position at the front of the store.
2. At least two responsible persons shall be delegated with the responsibility for operating each blackout switch in order to guarantee prompt extinguishment of the lights in any emergency.
3. Decorative lighting of homes, both inside and outside, will be permissible provided some responsible person of the household is on the premises who can and will turn off all lighting in an emergency.

Insurance Checks For Municipalities

Three municipalities in this suburban area will receive checks from the Fire Insurance Tax Fund of the State. The checks are paid to the townships and boroughs but are turned over to the relief associations of the fire companies.

Haverford Township will receive $743.38; Narberth Borough $682.22 and Lower Merion Township $4,500.67.

More than 1450 municipalities through the Commonwealth will receive similar checks. The current payment is the largest in the history of the Fire Insurance Tax Fund.

Manoa Celebrates Championship

Manoa A. A., three times champion in the Main Line Baseball League, celebrated the event with a banquet at the Club Del Rio Wednesday night.

The trophy was presented by Walter Hanley, president of the League. Speakers included J. Herbert Good, vice-president of the League, and Charles M. Dill, president of the Haverford Township Board of Commissioners.

Players and members of the Association were present.

Junior Army Collects 96,597 Pounds Of Scrap

The 120 Narberth Public School children, organized into a Junior Army, have collected 96,597 pounds of scrap.

Figures show that canvassers in the third grade were responsible for 1052 pounds; seven canvassers in the fourth grade collected 8221 pounds; 20 fifth graders were responsible for 17,110 pounds. The 15 pupils in the sixth grade reported 9011 pounds; 38 seventh graders 21,982 pounds; 35 eighth graders 39,221 pounds. Their collections covered iron, steel, rubber, copper, brass, bronze, aluminum, zinc, lead and rags.

Recommended As Standard Equipment

Air raid wardens in Sector 10 of the Borough knew what they wanted in the way of a hand-drawn fire-fighting cart. So Sterling M. Chain sector warden; George Passfield and Frank Hardcastle got their ideas and tools together and built a portable cart on bicycle wheels. The cart is five feet long and 40 inches wide and at present is being stored at the Berkeley Apartments. They say it "pulls very easy" and, according to their estimate, it would only cost each sector of Narberth $90 a piece to duplicate it. In the picture from left to right are Chief Air Raid Warden Joseph L. Kelley, Chain and Hardcastle. The little warden, in front, who borrowed the News photographer's steel helmet, is "Rusty" Chain. The equipment consists of two of each of the following: red lantern, shovels, helmets, pairs of long gloves, goggles, fire pails, bags of "tat" extinguisher and fine spray brass nozzles, one hand sprayer, First Aid kit and 100 feet of clothes-line rope.

The lettering was done by Marjorie Cowan, commercial artist.

Register for Blackout Driving Course

Members of the various services of the Lower Merion Council of Defense are registering for the new course in blackout driving now being offered by the Citizens Defense Corps under the instruction of Mrs. Frank Reese of Ardmore.

The course consists of two sessions, the first covering instruction in map reading, how to find locations around blocked roads and blackout driving; the second covering instruction in skill driving.

The first course will begin November 5, at 7:30 p. m. in the Library of the Ardmore Junior High School.

The affair will serve in part as a testimonial to the work of Rex I. Gary, former Scout executive of the Delaware-Montgomery County Council, who is now a major in the United States Army, attached to the office of procurement. Major Gary did much to bring the local council to a position as one of the best in the nation.

Arthur W. Binns will be a featured speaker. The program will include a novel graphic demonstration of the part played by Boy Scouts in the war.

All officials of the Main Line district, including troop leaders and troop committeemen, are invited.

Change Date For Boy Scout Dinner

A change in the date of the Boy Scout District Dinner to November 16 instead of November 6 has been announced by C. Summer Davis, Haverford, chairman.

It was felt that this date would be suitable to the largest number of Scout officials of the Main Line district. The event will be held at the Ardmore Presbyterian Church, Montgomery av. and Mill Creek rd.

Christmas Cartons

For the last several weeks OUR TOWN has suggested that the cartons for the Service Men's Christmas gifts might be donated.

The result is that a local resident will provide more than 300 extra-strong containers without cost to the general fund.

They comply in every way with the regulations and are so constructed that delivery even to the farthest off destination is well assured.

This generous gesture aids considerably to the excellent spirit of the notable occasion.

Presbyterians Close Conference

Church Supports Missionaries in Brazil, Chile, and New Mexico

Rev. Lester J. Soerheide will address the Young People's Dinner at the Sixth Annual Missionary Conference this Friday evening at the Narberth Presbyterian Church. Mr. Soerheide is pastor of the Friendship Presbyterian Church of Manchester, Clay County, Kentucky. He will also speak at the morning worship of the church Sunday, October 25.

The Hilltop Branch of Christian Endeavor is cooperating with the Conference Dinner and representatives from the ten church members plan to attend. Mr. William Armstrong, president, will preside. The dinner will be supervised by Mrs. B. Nelson.

The goal for the missionary offering at the Sunday morning service is $1000. For the past five years this October missionary offering has surpassed the same goal. Narberth Church supports three full time missionaries in Chile, Brazil and New Mexico as well as assisting with the work of the Medellin Bible College, Medellin, Columbia, South America and the Christian Approach to the Jews in Philadelphia.

Council Approves Rehabilitation Plan

At the request of Bullock-Sanderson Post, American Legion, the Lower Merion Council of Defense at its meeting Tuesday afternoon approved the Post's movement for rehabilitation of men rejected for service in the armed forces by reason of a curable disability.

H. Sibley Lee of the Legion Post is chairman of the committee of physicians, dentists and others cooperating in making fit for military service men who have failed to meet the requirements of the Selective Service. Dr. Douglas MacFarlan is technical advisor.

Nash Realty Company reports the sale of property 712 S. Bowman Ave., Merion, for C. Edwin Drueiding and wife to Francis L. Petrikin. Property was sold for $13,000.

'Bob'Squire Wins WarBond In Letter Writing Contest

Robert M. Squier, 198 Woodbine av., and pupil of Narberth Public School since 1936, won the $25 War Bond which was offered by the Gifts for Service Men Committee for expressing in the most fitting manner the sentiments which are to accompany the Christmas Boxes to be sent to the members of the Armed Forces from Narberth.

The contest was characterized by a lively interest, nearly 150 boys and girls submitting entries, and the report is that the judges were obliged to choose with rare skill from numerous letters of considerably more than ordinary merit.

The winner, who is one of the popular lads of the Borough, is familiarly known as "Bob" and is now in the Seventh Grade.

His letter, it was noted, had that particular warmth of feeling that the committee sought, and its appropriate spirit was translated into the plain phrases which the judges regarded as the natural utterances

Overseas Xmas Kits Ready To Mail; Contributions Now Total $1889.60

List Committee To Publish Names Of Soldiers Next Week; Each Box To Contain At Least Ten Items

The work of wrapping, packing and mailing the Christmas Boxes for the men from Narberth who are in the Armed Forces is now underway at a lively rate and it is expected those kits which are to go overseas will leave next week.

If it is permitted by the regulations, OUR TOWN will print next week, without revealing their precise whereabouts, the list of local men who are in other parts of the world in the Country's service, and the summary is apt to be impressive to those who were not previously aware of the contribution which the Borough has made to the Expeditionary Forces.

All week long the merchandise has been flowing in, with Treasurer Carl B. Metzger, Jr., paying cash on the barrel-head on its arrival, the contributions which enable him to do so having amounted to the handsome sum of $1889.60, with probably more to come.

Each box will contain at least ten items, not one of which was selected from the customary stocks nor in the customary places, such garden variety articles not being regarded as up to the mark for the Narberth Warriors, as will or will not be glimpsed from this not to informative outline.

The main article is so wide and not quite so long, its dissimilitude from the second article being negligible with respect to the fact that neither of them is made of gutta percha nor has either a saw-tooth roof.

On the other hand, the third article is more longitudinal than otherwise, depending on who describes it and how little they know, differing from the fourth item on the score that the fifth gift has a bottom as well as a top.

The other five gifts also have qualities all their own, but perhaps it would be more to the point if they were set forth in catalog form and in the manner in which they were purchased, as follows:

CENSORED: There are too many of you fellows in the Service who are receiving OUR TOWN each week and so you will have to wait 'til Christmas before you learn what the boxes contain...but you'll be surprised!

However, for the benefit of the home-front which has so generously made the tribute possible, the gifts will be displayed in one of the store windows next week and it is believed they will be accorded general community approval.

The gift committee was comprised of Herbert J. Egmore, Joseph L. Kelley, James A. McCaffrey and Henry A. Smith.

Highly important is the work of the list committee, which must provide the last official address of each man in the Service, whether he is in or out of the country, and that's a task which requires considerable and close checking. The men are constantly on the move, but the women on the committee are right on the heels of all of them and there is little doubt there will be a 95 per cent delivery record on the several hundred packages which Narberth will send along to the camps and war-fronts.

The List Committee consists of: Mrs. J. J. Cabrey, chairman; Miss Kathryn E. Burgess, Mrs. F. Schrepfer, Mrs. H. A. Smith and Mrs. Juliet Squier.

The wrapping and packing committee is under the leadership of Mrs. Laura McCaffrey, who will be assisted by her co-members of the American Legion Auxiliary and also the following:

Miss Margaret Meisen, Miss Kathryn Heyder, Miss Margaret Loeschner, Miss Helen Read, Miss Myrtle Gregory and Miss Catherine J. Derr.

As this committee will have to provide appropriate wrappings for about 3000 articles, and to pack them in safe-arrival manner, it is evident it has plenty work cut out for it.

The addressing and mailing committee will be directed by Thomas F. Merkle, who will share the large job of carefully inscribing and affixing about 600 labels (two on each carton) with Mrs. Henry A. Frye, Mrs. Chas. McCarter and Mrs. Wm. H. Durbin. A rather involved postage and insurance problem will also add to the tasks of Mr. Merkle's committee.

Postmaster Joseph L. Kelley is endeavoring to arrange with the Washington authorities so that the overseas packages will pass through without benefit of censors, so that the original packing will not be disturbed until it gets into the hands of the man to whom it is addressed.

The North Atlantic Region of the American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs will hold its regular conference on October 24, at the Hotel Barclay in Philadelphia, with the Philadelphia Club serving as Hostess Club. This one day meeting will replace "for the duration" the usual two-day conference of former years.

In addition to the President, Ursula Murray, several other members of the Main Line Club will be in attendance.

The regular meeting of the Main Line Soroptimist Club will be a Hallowe'en party on October 28 at the Haverford Court Hotel. Hostesses for the occasion are Lynda Gallaway, chairman, Vivian Noble, and Grace Filler.

Three cases of contagious diseases: whooping cough, were reported for the week ending October 16 by the Lower Merion health department. This makes a total of 1432 cases reported for the year. All the whooping cough cases developed in health district three, which includes Haverford, Ardmore and Wynnewood.

CALLING THE TURN

Twice a week Radnor High School opens its gymnasium to the public free-of-charge. Young and old alike can shoot baskets, play volleyball or badminton, or work on the apparatus to their heart's content.

Norristown also has open house twice a week at Stewart and Rittenhouse Junior High Schools. In addition both of these school gyms are used twice weekly Norristown Community basketball leagues, which are sponsored and supervised by the Norristown Recreation Board.

Open nights at Radnor and Norristown are patronized largely by young men in defense industries. Most of them are working seven days a week and it's about the only real recreation they can get. Unquestionably, the opening of these gyms is a definite contribution to the war effort and the Radnor and Norristown school boards deserve high praise for their foresight and promptness in recognizing a community need.

So far we have heard nothing of Lower Merion and Haverford following suit. If they should open their gyms once or twice a week we're sure they'd be well patronized. It wouldn't be difficult to secure the necessary volunteer supervisors. How about it?

The Worms Turn

One of the most satisfying features of the schoolboy football season to date is the showing of Lansdowne and Bryn, one-time dorm-mates of the Suburban Conference.

Lansdowne went through three and a half seasons without victory, didn't score a point over half this stretch. Berwyn dropped 26 consecutive games. Today both are undefeated and are in the front ranks of the title contenders in their respective counties.

Lansdowne hurdled one of its biggest barriers when it nosed out Upper Darby, 2-0, last Saturday. It was the Garnet and Gray's first victory over the Royals in eight years. The Lords have a good chance of getting by Springfield, Sharon Hill, Haverford and Yeadon. If they do they'll probably be fighting for the Delec crown when they meet Swarthmore on Thanksgiving Day. The latter also is undefeated.

Berwyn, held to a tie by Upper Merion last Saturday, faces its toughest assignment this week when it plays host to Coatesville. The latter has lost only to Ben Franklin of the Philadelphia Public Conference and holds decisions over Lancaster and John Harris of the highly touted Big 15 Conference.

Should Berwyn upset Coatesville it would become an even choice to take its first Chester County crown since 1933.

Gene Davis Returns

SHORT PUNTS—Narberth residents are keenly interested in Friday night's meeting of the Temple and the North Carolina Naval Cadets at the Owl stadium. Reason: One of the borough's favorite sons, Gene Davis, Jr., former Penn Captain, is quarterback of the Naval eleven. When Coach Clipper Smith and his aides hurried across the Shibe Park gridiron last Saturday after handing Florida its first defeat, 13-3, they were met by Tom Leib, Florida coach, whose only comment on the game was: "That's the worst officiating I've ever seen anywhere. Don't worry you'll get yours next week." The Wildcats are in Dixie this week for a date with Auburn. Last year Auburn defeated the Main Liners, 13-0.

With Art Jones, former all-scholastic back from Haverford High, contributing all the touchdowns, Haverford College crushed Drexel, 18-0, for its third straight last Saturday. Johns Hopkins, a 38-0 victim of Haverford last year, comes to Walton Field this week. Coach Roy Randall evidently has one of the better small college teams in the East... chances of an undefeated season hinge on games with Wesleyan, Hamilton and Swarthmore. Most Haverford would readily accept defeat at the hands of the first two opponents if it would mean a victory over Swarthmore. The traditional series with the Garnet was renewed last year after a long break and Swarthmore won, 12-7, in an upset. Small wonder the Scarlet and Black is revenge-minded.

Due to the rationing of fuel oil, it is quite possible most high school basketball games will be played in the afternoons this year. Abington High fans are glad the Ghosts haven't any more dates on the Main Line this season. The York Roaders hadn't recovered from that 41-6 shellacking at the hands of Lower Merion when Episcopal Academy added insult to injury by upsetting the Snodgrass-coached team, 13-6, last Friday.

Incidentally, it's about time the city scribes wake up and give Ray Keegan, Episcopal coach, his due. His teams have won two consecutive Interac crowns and his present club is undefeated. He's an Ardmore resident, by the way.

Rotary Governor

The Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club next Tuesday will welcome Charles W. Churchman, governor of the 179th district of Rotary International. Churchman is associated with his father in the conducting of the Churchman College, Easton, and is a member of the Rotary Club of Easton.

Mr. Churchman will visit the Rotary Club to advise and assist President Dr. F. Monroe Purse and Secretary Dr. E. R. Disbrow, Jr., and the committeemen of the club on matters pertaining to club administration and Rotary service activities.

Assure Night Games—Heat or No Heat

Heat or no heat high school teams in Section I of the Suburban Basketball Conference will play their games at night. Coaches of the teams decided at a recent meeting to take a chance on what the war may bring in the way of fuel oil or if necessary play in lower temperatures. At a time, there was some talk of playing the games in the afternoon. Lower Merion and Haverford High Schools both play in this section.

2 Health Centers To Close Nov. 1

Civic Assn. Committee Says Attendance Has Fallen Off

The Child Health Centers of Manoa and Oakmont will close on November 1. Action on this matter was taken at the meeting of the health committee of the Community Health and Civic Association, due to the decrease in attendance at both centers in the past year.

Dr. Joseph E. Sands, chairman of the Health Committee, stated that if at anytime there is a demand for his service the organization would resume these centers.

The Oakmont Center is located in the Oakmont Public School with the members of the Oakmont-South-Ardmore Woman's Club serving as volunteers. Manoa's Center is in Oak Fellows Hall, West Chester Pike, and the volunteers are members of the American Legion Auxiliary, Manoa. Representatives of both organizations will continue to serve on the nursing and health committee of the Community Health and Civic Association.

To Expand Program

As Girl Scouts of Philadelphia and Montgomery Counties bring the Ninth Annual Cookie Sale to a close all available boxes are sold. The record breaking number of boxes is 180,000, the Main Line accounting over 16,000 of the total! This large figure translated represents 97½ tons of cookies.

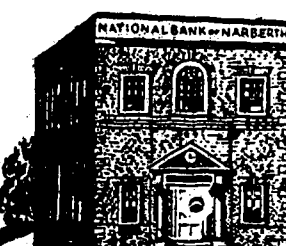

Mrs. Frank Praeger, chairman, attributes the success of the sale to the setting of a goal and quotas for each troop and girl. Actually, 200,000 boxes could have been sold had not the Company making the cookies been forced to stop their manufacture due to lack of material. Any delay in delivery of cookies experienced by local communities has been due to the difficulties of the company in getting enough material to make the cookies and in securing cellophane wrapping upon which the Government has now placed a priority.

The earnings from the sale will augment the grant from the United States Government and help finance the Scouting program. Girl Scouting is directly concerned with Civilian Defense; and girls in increasing numbers are needing and wanting what it offers. The financial success of the Cookie Sale means that the Girl Scouts of Philadelphia, of which the Main Line is a part, can meet their budget and expand their program.

News of BALA-CYNWYD Junior High

by JANE HANSCOM

and FLORENCE HICKMAN

Honorable Arthur H. James, Governor of Pennsylvania; Mr. Burlington, president of the school board, and Mr. Dubois, our superintendent of schools, were guests of honor at a dinner given in the Academy Building of the Bala-Cynwyd Junior High School. They were received by Senator and Mrs. Edmonds, Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert and the Lower Merion School Board.

Miss Myers, Miss Wenger, and Mrs. Peck of the home economics department, were in charge of the dinner. Mary Ann Wilson, Mary Jo Mason, Ellen Meyers, Agnes Latini, Nancy Greene, Marilyn Eby, Patricia Billaugh and Patricia Stroup prepared and served the dinner.

A great majority of B. C.'s student body were in the auditorium when the local air raid alarm sounded on October 14. Although the test came as a complete surprise the students were previously prepared by school drills. After securing their coats, they formed lines along the walls of the hallways according to home-room posts. The faculty was pleased with the student cooperation.

A review series was held for those who took a course in First Aid last year, so that these students can help to train a new group. The

First Aiders with the highest ratings will be assigned to posts for emergency duty and will report there during all air raids or practices.

Bala-Cynwyd was honored to have an invitation for the school band to play at the dedication of a service flag. This flag will be presented on Sunday, October 18, to the boys from West Manayunk who are in the armed forces of the United States.

Nurses Needed

The Red Cross First Reserve is the chief recruiting agency for both the Army and the Navy Nurses. All graduates from accredited schools between the ages of 21 and 40, in good health and unmarried are eligible.

This means nurses are needed for overseas spots in England, Ireland, Iceland, Australia, India and China. It also means that registered nurses who have retired should return to the hospitals at home in order to release active nurses for overseas.

Colorful Velveteen Is Smart For 'Dating' or Classroom

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

It is a triumphant program that fashion seers are predicting for velveteen this fall and winter. Enchanting colors, sturdy texture, the dress-up appearance it always makes, together with its wearableness from the utilitarian standpoint; its adaptability to versatile styling for everyone from tiny tots to fashion-minded grownups; the fact that it is not affected by the priority rulings, and many more of its virtues that might be cited, all contribute to the glory and triumph of velveteen in the fabric realm today.

The wardrobe that does not make a goodly showing of gray and handsome velveteen fashions this fall and winter will be the exception rather than the rule. So velveteen-conscious have style creators become they are vying with each other to see who can turn out the most attractive velveteen fashions. Nor does their enthusiasm end with the use of velveteen for dresses, coats and suits, for velveteen is also playing a stellar role in the accessory "field."

There's a big thrill awaiting you in the stunning accessory ensembles which milliners are displaying with utmost pride. For a grand and glorious uplift to your fall suit or coat you'll find that a hat and bag two-piece will come nothing short of proving ideal. These velveteen sets are to be had in lush colors that carry flattery to the "nth" degree. You can get a beret and underarm bag made of velveteen, or a chic "padre" hat over the brim of which sweeps a colorful pheasant feather. Later you will be seeing muff, bag and hat threesomes, so be on the lookout for these beguiling velveteen fantasies.

The styles pictured are utterly convincing as to the charm and style prestige which makes velveteen one of the most to be desired fabrics that fashion has to offer this season.

There is an important style message in the dress to the left in the group illustrated above in that it is made of check-and-double-check vel-

veteen. It's a lovable gown to wear to "dates" and really as practical to wear to class. This handsome check-printed velveteen does honor to the cotton textile theme, for that's what it is, one of those stunning cotton materials which are a persuasive argument in favor of adopting smart cottons for winter and fall as well as spring and summer wear. This classic shirtwaist model achieves a new look with its pegtop skirt that brings discreet and flattering fullness to the fore. Unusual blouse fastenings clip on and off like the buttons on a military uniform. You can vision this dress in rich autumn green or brown or the new fuchsia tone, but there's no end to the colors available.

Shown to the right in the above picture is a swank and practical "date" costume made of spruce green velveteen, with the new hip-bone jacket length. The scallop treatment is most beguiling. Be it said also of this costume, as well as its two companion fashions, that they have been made to conform to the government fabric-saving program in every detail as issued direct from the Office of War Information. For downright practicality and the utmost chic and charm, here is a costume that will measure up perfectly to every requirement.

Another velveteen charmer is centered in the above illustration. It is just the sort that carries college girl appeal with its dirndl-front skirt, pockets and studded belt that is so smartly colorful. Speaking of school-girl fashions, there is nothing smarter or more practical than a velveteen jumper dress with which you can wear a different blouse every day if you so choose. Bright red velveteen is a first selection, or the new purple.

Hat and Bag Ensembles Are Simply Irresistible

It is going to be a case of "must have" when you see the lovely and cunningly designed hat and bag sets made of superbly colorful velveteen which are so conspicuously present in this fall's millinery displays.

You will find that these perfectly charming twosomes of bright velveteen are just what you have been looking for not only from the standpoint of flattery, for the hats in such beautiful colors "do something for you" at the same time that they add a new note of glamour to even the simplest suit or costume with which they are worn, but also for their practical qualities. These hat and bag ensembles can "take it."

Ewing Resigns as Commissioner

Two Roads Taken Over And Inspector Appointed

The Lower Merion Township governing board on Wednesday night accepted the resignation of Samuel E. Ewing, Jr., commissioner from the West Bryn Mawr District.

Ewing, a first lieutenant in the U. S. Army, is stationed in Washington, D. C. He has been in military service for nearly two years.

Commissioners will consider petitions from residents of the district in making the appointment. If the appointment is not made by the township board within 30 days it automatically goes to Montgomery County Court for action.

At the same meeting commissioners passed an ordinance which provides for paving, grading, draining and curbing of a section of Academy rd. in Cynwyd.

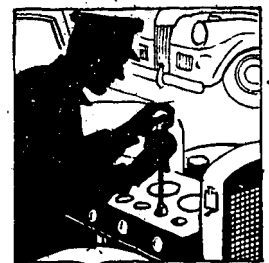

They also approved the taking over and improving Sussex rd., between Argyle rd. and Knox rd., and Lakeside rd., between Sussex and Wynnewood rds. in Wynnewood.

Our Motto

"Whether 'tis hidden, or whether it show,
"The work must be sound for the Lord will know."
Edwin Markham

THIS is our thirty-fifth year of active, retail shoe business in Philadelphia. It is the fifty-sixth year of my active engagement in that business. The portraits above show you all members of our firm. They have been reproduced to send to many shoe manufacturers in the United States. These represent the best shoemaking in the country and have always made our shoes according to our own specifications, as dictated by experience and knowledge in the kinds of leathers we have always demanded.

In this lies our success for, after all, we know more about what Philadelphians need and want than some manufacturer in a distant city. Our shoes are not like other shoes. They have a combination of materials selected by us as a result of years of rich experience. They are not built just to please the eye. In all cases they are built for long wearing quality in a vast range of sizes and are fitted to your feet by a professional fitting service that cannot be surpassed. That is why our store has come to be known as America's Master Shoe Store.

Thousands of men and women who have entered the military and civilian services of our country have found that our Shoor-Tred system of foot control has given them sturdy, efficient feet. Every day, officers—both male and female come into our store and say:

"There is nothing wrong with my feet. My shoes have been bought here ever since I was a baby."

As for quality, we never shirk paying extra for something that is better. We have not based our shoes on a nation-wide psychological price range. Our shoes are made according to the Geuting standard and we know no other standard. As Markham well said in his famous poem on the shoemaker, as quoted above.

When the last depression overtook us, thousands of firms went out of business. With courage we have stuck to the moral of this poem and have emerged from the worst economic debacle the United States has ever gone through with the largest shoe store and the greatest specialized shoe business in the United States.

We are serving many families even unto the third generation. We have nearly one hundred thousand of the best families of Philadelphia on our books. Sometimes, they try other stores but they usually come back to the Master Shoe Store.

Here we take the shoe business seriously. We do not sell shoes as handkerchiefs are sold but treat the shoe business as a profession. We do not hesitate to say there is not a thing in the tanning of leather or the knowledge of shoe-making, in any of the difficult problems that confront us in caring for distorted feet, that we do not know how to handle.

The Geuting idea precluded imitating others. It made one of its important foundation stones a policy of origination, of creation, of invention. Many such ideas it never protected though they might have made fortunes for their creators.

There has been one exception and only one.

The Geuting patented, protected Shoor-Tred last. There is none more perfect. It has no peer in the all-important task of guiding the yielding, malleable feet of infants and little children to perfect growth, to health, to strength and, therefore, to efficiency and beauty.

These are some of the reasons why families dealing with the Geuting stores in Philadelphia, Ardmore and Germantown have done so since the day of its foundation; why they come back again and again and again.

Salvage Campaign Nets 500 Tons; Children Start To Collect Tin Cans

Township Picks Up 300 Tons; Other Organizations 200; Salvage Money Will Be Turned into Defense Fund; Continued Support Asked

Lower Merion Township's Junk Rally, held in connection with the Pennsylvania Scrap Harvest and the Newspapers' Metal Scrap Drive, has resulted in the removal already to the scrap yards of more than 300 tons of vital materials.

An additional 200 tons has been collected by other organizations in the Township, Chairman Ralph E. Springer of the Salvage Committee reported Tuesday to the Lower Merion Council of Defense, and an estimated 100 tons more is still available in the district.

Of the more than 300 tons already moved to the yards between September 1 and October 17, 282,465 tons consist of metal scrap and 18,555 tons of rubber and rags.

Lower Merion school children are now beginning to add their efforts to this continued drive. Over the week-end they distributed pamphlets on the proper preparation of tin cans, and are now getting their sources worked up through families and neighbors for the collections as a project in elementary and Junior High Schools.

It is interesting to note that the effort of Lower Merion's citizens will prove a financial aid to the Township and its defense organization as well as a material aid to industry as a whole. The Lower Merion Commissioners have decided that moneys from salvage sales to the scrap yards are to be set up in the Township records as a civilian defense fund and allocated for defense needs.

Continued support and cooperation in the drive is still asked, however, for the job is for the duration of the war until victory is achieved over the Axis.

Pennsylvania's quota of iron and steel scrap to be collected before next December 31 was set at 3,000,000 tons. It is the estimate of the State Salvage Committee that, through fine cooperation, the job is two-thirds done. If correct, that means there is a million more tons to get in the next two months.

Jephtha Abbott Chapter

The Jephtha Abbott Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, announces that, owing to war conditions, the annual autumn dinner-dance will not be held this year.

"Say, pop, do you think the home team will win today?"
"No, Dicky. I don't think so. I have $10 on the home team."

Suburban train platforms certainly look different now!

1941. In the first 8 months, the four principal Philadelphia suburban divisions of the Pennsylvania Railroad carried 7,507,587 commuters and other passengers. Station platforms at peak hours were uncrowded — people boarded trains leisurely. It was not uncommon for a commuter to enjoy a double seat from his home station to destination.

1942. In the same 8 months on the same divisions, the Pennsylvania Railroad carried 10,572,259 passengers. Over 3,000,000 more! Now station platforms are well-filled, there is friendly rivalry for "first aboard." The empty seat over the full route is a rarity. Yet, generally speaking, few passengers must stand, even at peak hours.

Getting you to business, carrying workers to war industries, helping you and your neighbors save rubber and gas for your country—that's as much a part of our wartime job as moving troops and war materials.

And it's a job that grows bigger, as these figures indicate:

In January, when tire rationing began, Pennsylvania Railroad trains serving this Philadelphia suburban area carried 177,006 more passengers than in January 1941. An increase of 17 per cent.

But in August, under the full impact of over-all restrictions on driving and with war industry payrolls growing—these Philadelphia suburban trains carried 598,134 more passengers than in the previous August. An increase of approximately 75 per cent!

To date this greatly increased travel has been handled comfortably and smoothly. Trains that ran half-full in pre-war years now fill up. Sometimes people have had to stand—that is, in peak hours; but usually only for short distances.

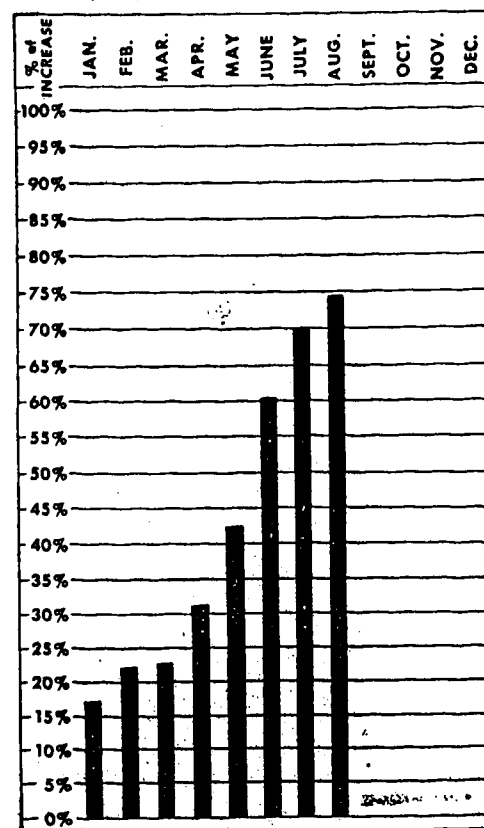

As for the future: new passenger cars no longer can be built—the steel is needed for war. So we must do with what we have.

Right now, we keep a day-to-day record on every train. We shift, add or subtract cars as needs fluctuate. We maintain close contact with war industries in order to set up schedules and equipment most convenient for their workers. We shall cooperate in all ways possible to meet the necessities of commuters as best we can under changing wartime conditions.

But if occasionally you should be inconvenienced, we trust you will understand that we are doing our best under circumstances beyond our control.

Look how Suburban train travel has increased since Jan. 1, 1942

Chart shows percentage increase of passengers over corresponding month last year on four principal Philadelphia suburban divisions.

Narberth Club Members To Serve As Hostesses; Afternoon Panel Discussion

The Montgomery County Federation Women's Clubs will hold an all day meeting, Thursday, October 30, at the New Century Club, 124 So 12th st., Philadelphia.

Members of the Women's Community Club of Narberth will serve as hostesses. Reservations for luncheon can be made with Mrs. Chester C. McKibbin, 214 Essex av., Narberth.

The morning session will begin at 10:15 a. m. with an invocation by the Rev. Bryant M. Kirkland, pastor of Narberth Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Edward L. Doherty, art chairman of Penna. Fed. W. C. will speak on "Canadian and Latin American Art."

The Narberth Club will present its chorus with Mrs. C. Allen Walker as contralto soloist at the afternoon session.

Dr. Raymond Kistler, president of Beaver College, will lead the panel discussion "How Will We Supply Our Children With the Necessary and Desirable Religious Foundation?" Participating in the discussion will be:

Mrs. Samuel J. McCartney, county chairman of education; Mrs. Jessica Dotterer, director of elementary education of Cheltenham Township; Mrs. Albert E. Watson, conductor of a teachers' training class at Carver Presbyterian Church, Glenside, Pa.; Dr. Clinton H. Gillingham, president of Tennent College of Christian Education, Overbrook; and Dr. Carhart of St. Mark's Church, Frankford.

A flower show will be another feature of the meeting.

Patriotic Climax To Fashion Show

A "V" for Victory formation and patriotic tableau climaxed the Narberth Juniors' Fashion Show and Bridge last Thursday evening at the Community Building.

The models: Mrs. D. Waller, Mrs. H. Rogers, Mrs. John Flynn, Mrs. E. Griswold, Miriam Schlegel, Catherine Purcell, Mrs. David Vint, Mrs. William Cahill, Mary Phillips, Mrs. James Pollock and Mrs. P. J. Sigel formed the "V" with red and blue streamers.

Mrs. Harry Bennet, in a red evening dress, Mrs. G. N. Gill, in a white dress, and Mrs. David Greer, in a blue dress were in the tableau. Mrs. Gill gave an original invocation on "Womanhood."

REPUBLICAN WOMEN MEET

The monthly meeting of Dr. Thomas Wynne Council of Republican Women, was held Monday at Haverford Court Hotel, Haverford.

Mrs. Helder, of Norristown, spoke on publicity for the sale of War Bonds and Stamps. She told the members about the extensive drive on November 10, and urged co-operation from club women.

It was announced that a convention will be held in Harrisburg from November 16 to 18, to elect officers for the coming year.

FIRESIDE

Mrs. Arthur L. Cooke, 207 Lantwyn lane, Narberth, entertained the members of her bridge club Monday evening. The guests included Mrs. Frank Kennedy, Mrs. John Nash, Mrs. Allen Dody, Mrs. Gary Henderson, Miss Emma Prince, Mrs. Fielding Howe, and Mrs. Charles McCartney.

Lieutenant Alex Jeffers, formerly of Narberth, visited friends in Narberth before returning to his post at Clayburn, La.

Dessert Bridges to Be Given for War Bonds; Book Club Meets Monday

Dr. Edward M. Westburg, head of the Psychology Service Institute at Pennsylvania Hospital, spoke on "Women's Share in Maintaining Morale in Times of War" at the second meeting of the Junior Women's Community Club of Narberth, October 22.

Miss Jean Staples, chairman, and members of the education committee directed the meeting.

The Book Club of the Narberth Juniors will hold its first meeting of the season at the home of the chairman, Mrs. John Eldenberg, 208 Woodside av., on Monday. Each member of the group purchases a book which is circulated among the members and returned at the end of the year.

Madame De Baussett of the Ardmore Book Shop will give a preview of the new fall books.

Mrs. S. Hulme Brown, chairman of the newly formed defense committee, will be in charge of a series of dessert bridges. Admission to the bridges will be a Defense Stamp.

The committee hopes to earn enough to purchase a $25 War Bond, or to contribute to half of the club's $50 War Bond pledge.

For School Children

"The assembly program at the Narberth Public School on Friday, consisted of a program given by 'Texas Tommy' and 'Baby Doll.' Kindergarten, and all grades attended and the program was enjoyed by all.

"Baby Doll" is a small Shetland pony that is brown in color and does many tricks such as walking on her hind legs, and counting.

"There is a museum case in the lower hall of the upper school building. In it this month are things made by different Indian tribes, which are contributed by pupils and teachers of the fourth and fifth grades."

Class of 1945 — Lower Merion High School

The formal dedication of L. M. Senior High School's Technical Division was held on October 15 at 8:30 P. M. The school, which was completed in time for the current school year was built and equipped at the cost of $350,000.

Many students attended the first meeting of the new Art Club, which is under the direction of Mr. Weber. The club has already chosen its officers which are: Barbara Knapp, president; Vice-President Ann McIlroy; Marie Pollock, secretary. The club meets on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month, and it is hoped that a real interest in art will be fostered at L. M.

The staff of L. M. Senior High's year book, "The Enchiridion," are already making plans for this year's book. The literary staff consists of: Betty Jane Ball, Gloria Brown, Bob Burkhardt, Tom Butler, Olive Fisher, Ted Friel, Ruth Elizabeth Jenkins, Jerry Lamb, Eileen Lawless, Clara Moody, Carol McKelvy, Madeleine Myers, Betty Reinsner, Jean Simpson, Pat Warren, Nancy Webster, and Dan Williams. The Business Staff members are: Josephine Falconi, Barbara Floyd, Jack Fuchs, Jane Gilhams, Jim Hutton, Pat Johnson, Gene Macchi, Betty McCormick, Harriet Nold, William Rice, Betty Robertson, Gloria Sacchetti, and Peggy Thompson.

The Junior Varsity Football Team, under the direction of Mr. Robinson, numbers about forty boys. The team has already played one of their games which was with Ardmore Junior High. The score was 6-6. During practices the J. V. squad is divided into three groups: the Army, Navy and Marine. These teams play each other on various days—thus the team's mistakes can be more easily checked.

A rally was held in the Down

Gym on October 18, prior to the Haverford football game on Saturday. Mr. Pearce, vice-principal, introduced the 10 candidates for cheer leader positions. After each candidate had led the student body in a cheer, the students were asked to vote for one boy and one girl whom they thought would be a good cheerleader. Mr. Pearce then made an announcement pertaining to the cost of tickets for the football game, and introduced Mr. Wilcox, assistant coach, who said a few words about the team's winning possibilities.

Lower Merion's Barn Dance, which was under the supervision of the Student Council, went over in a big way. Under streamers of yellow and green 300 students and alumni danced to the music of Jackie Fields and his orchestra. After several waltz numbers the orchestra really got "in the groove" and the "Hepcats" started "cuttin' rug" after rug. The jitterbugs consumed the total of 30 gallons of cider, during the course of the evening, which was served by Laird Miner, Rabbit Nargan, Dick McQuillen, Dick Whiteing and Phil Harmen. For the most part the fellows and girls were dressed in bright woolen plaid shirts and blue dungarees. Some of the girls who were dressed very smartly for the occasion were: Phyllis Evans, Betty Boxman, Marian Selts, Barbara Knapp, Dottie Baker, Nora Cleaver and Milada Mrs.

Urges Blood Donations

MRS. FRANCIS H. SCHERTZ

Armistice Day, 1942, will be observed in a new manner in Ardmore this year. At the headquarters of the local branch of the American Red Cross, workers, doctors and nurses will dedicate this day and days to follow to the memory of our soldiers who died during the last war for want of blood transfusions, by working to see that it cannot happen again in this war.

Under the direction of Mrs. Francis H. Schertz, the Chairman of the Main Line Branch No. 1 Blood Donor Service, appointments are being made for Main Liners who will leave their homes and offices during this day to go to the Red Cross Headquarters, located at 12 E. Montgomery Avenue, Ardmore, to give a very little part of their blood to help swell the vast quantity needed vitally by the Government.

It is simple, quick and takes less than an hour. For an appointment call Ardmore 3100. The Blood Donor Unit schedule is as follows:

November 11—10:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.
November 12—12:00 noon to 6:00 p. m.
November 13—12:00 noon to 6:00 p. m. and later Pearl Harbor Day, December 7—12:00 noon to 5:00 p. m. at the Ardmore Skating Club.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD ANNUAL MEETING

Dr. Maurice E. Levitt, of the Fifth St. Community Center, will speak at the annual meeting of the Narberth Branch of the Needlework Guild of America, Nov. 4, 2 P. M. in the Narberth Methodist Church. Reservations for the light lunch to be served at 12:30 P. M. must be made through Mrs. Gross, Narberth 2853-R, not later than October 30.

Lower Merion and Cheltenham Clash In Battle Of Unbeaten Big Six Teams; Maroon Smothers Haverford High, 31-0

Having rolled over Haverford in the anticipated manner, Lower Merion High School is ready to face the challenge of Cheltenham in a battle for the Suburban Big Six lead at Pennypacker Field Saturday afternoon.

Figured to be a second division club before the season started, Cheltenham surprised by winning its first two starts in Suburban Conference competition. The Panthers crushed Haverford, 26-0, and downed Radnor, 7-0, and broke even in two non-league contests. They lost to Penn Charter after an opening game victory over Central.

Although the two teams are tied for first place, Lower Merion is an overwhelming favorite to win its third straight in the Big Six and its fourth in the Suburban Conference. Most fans are basing this assumption on the belief that the Maroon is stronger than the team that scored a 14-0 victory over Cheltenham last year and that the latter is not quite up to its 1941 ability.

Coach Dick Mattis, as usual, is none too optimistic. He fears his boys may take the Panthers for granted and that the four days rest between games may not be enough.

The game with Haverford was postponed from Saturday to Monday on account of the weather. Fortunately, the Maroon had no great difficulty with the Fords, winning 31-0 with reserves in action most of the second half.

Lower Merion functioned smoothly in all departments as it chalked up two touchdowns in the first period and another in the second for a 13-0 halftime lead and then finished the job with a touchdown apiece in the last two quarters.

Haverford fought stubbornly and once halted the Maroon two yards from touchdown land, but it didn't have the all-around ability or the man power to cope with the speed and power of the versatile Maroon backs and the brawn and drive of L. M.'s aggressive linemen.

Lower Merion's line outplayed the Ford forwards by a wide margin, opening wide holes which made it a fairly easy matter for Maroon backs to scamper for repeated gains. Joe DiFelice paced the attack with two touchdowns while Vernon Young, Bud Cantagalli and Vernon Young chalked up one each. Frank Basile, quarterback, passed and raced.

game, and Jack Haenn, a third-stringer who's improving with each appearance, also figured prominently in the powerhouse offense.

Young scored the first touchdown on a 10-yard sprint early in the first quarter, capping a 47-yard drive. An other L. M. drive was halted on the two but Graves' punt traveled only to the 18 and the Maroon quickly drove to its second tally. Cantagalli going over from the one.

In the second quarter DiFelice accounted for his first touchdown on an eight yard run that was the climax of a 37-yard march.

The Maroon marched 72 yards with the second half kickoff. Stuart, Basile and Haenn sparking the drive and the former crossing the goal on a snappy 17-yard sprint. The final touchdown came in the fourth period in just four plays that ate up 74 yards. A 59-yard forward pass play, DiFelice to Haenn, put the ball in position and DiFelice carried it over from the eight.

Alfie Graves, shift Negro halfback, and End Joe Trickett were outstanding in the Haverford lineup.

Lower Merion's line outplayed the Ford forwards by a wide margin, opening wide holes which made it a fairly easy matter for Maroon backs to scamper for repeated gains. Joe DiFelice paced the attack with two touchdowns while Vernon Young, Bud Cantagalli and Vernon Young chalked up one each. Frank Basile, quarterback, passed and raced.

Xmas Seal Drive

The 36th Annual Christmas Seal Drive of the Montgomery County Tuberculosis Society will open on November 23. Mr. Frank L. Royer, of Ardmore, will head the committee for Lower Merion Township for the fifth year.

Mrs. James March, of Narberth, is in charge of publicity.

Mrs. C. Arley Farmer is chairman for the sale of seals at the Narberth post office.

Heat Denied for School Meetings

School Board Policy Needed to Conserve Fuel Oil

No heat is being furnished for meetings or other functions being held in any of the Lower Merion public schools.

Permission has been granted for the following uses of building but in each case it is stipulated that there would be no heat:

Cynwyd School, badminton, every Tuesday night.

Cynwyd School, badminton, every Wednesday night.

Penn Wynne School, dancing class, Thursday nights through October and November.

Penn Wynne School, volley ball, Wednesday nights.

Bryn Mawr School, health class, Monday nights.

Cynwyd School, badminton, Friday nights.

Referring to this in his monthly report to the Lower Merion School Board on Monday night F. A. DuBois, superintendent of schools, said:

"Some applications for use of our buildings at night have come into our office where heat would be required. These applications have been denied to conserve fuel oil."

Honor Public Record

MARVIN E. REYNOLDS

Former health officer in Lower Merion Township whose family on Wednesday received for him the first posthumous meritorious award ever made by the Pennsylvania State Association of Township Commissioners. Mr. Reynolds died in March of this year. The award, which was presented by Frederick Jasper, Cheltenham Township commissioner and president of the Association, read:

"For 34 years he served his community with unflinching courtesy, remarkable fidelity and extraordinary ability in the administration of public health in Lower Merion Township.

"His life was one of continual service to others extending far beyond the requirements of his official duties as health officer. For great modesty, generosity to those in need and unselfish devotion to the public interest, his memory will long be revered in the community he so faithfully served."

Present to receive the award at the Township Building in Ardmore was his widow; a daughter, Miss Elizabeth Reynolds, and three sons, Marvin, Harry and Roger Reynolds.

Officers of the Association present besides Jasper were T. Jay Sproule, vice-president of the Association and chairman of the meritorious awards committee, and Harry Fritschman, secretary of Haverford Township and secretary of the Association.

First Aiders Help Boy to Hospital

Splint Improvised from Board and Padded With Leaves

First Aiders had an opportunity to apply their training when Wilson Dorn, 15, was thrown from a saddle horse at Paddock Farms near Oakmont last Sunday and had both bones of his left leg broken.

The boy lives at 1407 Lawrence Rd., Oakmont, and his father is employed in the Township highway department.

Among those to administer first aid were Edward Jackson, vice-chairman of the Upper Haverford Township Red Cross, and Mrs. Blake from Paddock Farms, who is a graduate of the standard Red Cross course.

Scouting around near the scene of that accident the First Aiders found an old board and from the bystanders they borrowed handkerchiefs, a shirt and a belt. For packing around the improvised splint they used leaves.

Haverford Township police took the boy to the Bryn Mawr Hospital.

Physicians at the Hospital complimented the First Aiders for their ingenuity and skillfulness in preparing the boy for hospitalization.

Dorothy Nugent At Old Hat Bridge

Members of the Woman's Club of Bala-Cynwyd are ransacking closets and attics for the Old Hat Bridge, Wednesday, October 28, at 2:30 p. m. in the club house.

Mrs. Dorothy Nugent, hat designer and author of "Hats Created Not Dated" will give a short illustrated talk.

Prizes will be awarded to the woman wearing the most ridiculous hat, and the woman who wears her hat to the best advantage.

Call Mrs. George M. Sitterley, Cynwyd 1947 for reservations.

AUTUMN DANCE AT ARDMORE CLUB

The Woman's Club of Ardmore will give an informal dance at their clubhouse for members and friends. Saturday evening, with music by Le-Noir's orchestra.

Due to gas rationing and fuel conservation this will be the club's only activity during the fall season. Mrs. Harold Kistler and Mrs. Paul Stemple will serve as hostesses.

Gardeners Tired Feeding Rabbits Ask To Raise Ban On Box Traps

Junk Pile Grows; Cemetery Donates Cast Iron Benches

If you haven't examined the growing salvage pile in front of the Lower Merion Township Building at Ardmore you will find a miscellaneous assortment of articles including such things as bird cages, broken baby and doll carriages, toy telephones, velocipedes, skates, rubber heels, and soles from a shoemaker, once fashionable French horns, old license plates, rusty bread boxes and vegetable bins, wringers, worn-out sinks, stoves, chafing dishes, hose reels and old metal clocks.

Even a collection of loving cups was turned in by a sportsman who was anxious to contribute to the salvage campaign.

One of the best contributions of the week was reported by Howard Wayne Smith, defense director, as the offer of a local cemetery to donate 75 or 80 cast iron benches or chairs.

Campfire Service

The Young Adults of the Bala-Cynwyd Methodist Church have scheduled a hike followed by a song service around a campfire, Sunday, starting from the church at 3:30 p. m.

Miss Jean Baker is chairman, and John Miller is in charge of the hike.

The Suburban Garden Club endorsed the following letter to be sent to the Fish and Game Commission, Harrisburg, Pa., at the meeting held last Tuesday evening at the home of the secretary, Mrs. C. B. Shoemaker, Fairview av., Bon Air.

"Due to the natural tendency of suburban dwellers to entice, feed, foster and enjoy the wild birds and small animals, the rabbits have increased year by year to the point where this season they became a costly pest to many who attempted to have gardens.

"All over the suburbs it is reported that the rabbits quickly learned to jump over any low wire, or to dig under any too high to jump, and many gardens were eaten clean as soon as the growing things became tasty to them and replanting simply fed them more.

"The Suburban Garden Club wishes to place itself on record with this position to your board — so wit:

"That in the suburban areas where shooting is entirely prohibited, or restricted on account of close residential settlement the ban on box traps be raised for at least the last two weeks of the gunning season. We ask this in preference to allowing gunners to come in and shoot about our yards as it is our experience that gunners coming from the city, even at present, have little regard for gunning restrictions and frequently become very reckless and even impudent."

John Knapp, president, presided over this meeting.

Leave to Service

Only Applicants With Dependents Will Be Accepted

Reshuffling of the Lower Merion police force to a war-time footing and permanency is being worked out by the Township commissioners and the Police Civil Service Commission.

Announcement that six patrolmen had been granted leaves of absence for the duration of the war and eight recruits are being added to the department was made at Wednesday night's meeting of commissioners.

In the meantime, the Civil Service Commission announced a change in its regulations which means that in the future they will not accept an application for appointment to the force unless the applicant has dependents, that is, a wife and children. The change was made to avoid the expense of training any recruit who might later be called into the service.

Patrolmen, who have been granted leaves of absence, are George Kramer, Emil Piquet, Joseph Crooks, Leslie E. Martin, William J. Hart and Henry L. Barney.

New recruits are Norman M. Mould, John A. Spotts, William G. Gilkes, Francis Broderick, John J. Chidester, Herbert D. Dupre, George A. Dramis, Dominick R. Jangulio. The police committee is also following the policy of asking draft boards for deferments when patrolmen are called.

FRANKLIN INSTITUTE

Notes: All Service Men in uniform will be admitted to Museum and Planetarium free.

Exhibit of the Month: "Lightning." From Franklin's discovery of the identity of lightning and electricity to the modern man-made lightning produced by a surge generator is a long jump. Some of the Institute's lightning exhibits have been brought together for the month of October, and a collection of historical lightning rods, some made by Franklin himself, will be featured together with early photographs of lightning. Several fulgurites, or specimens of "fossil lightning," will also be shown, together with the periodic demonstration of a half-million volt lightning flash. Second Floor—Hall of Engineering.

Camouflage for Civilian Defense: This popular exhibition on the principles and practice of protective concealment is being continued.

Air Raid Precautions: Incendiary, high explosives, and poison gas bombs are explained in the Civilian Defense exhibit, just near the Planetarium Lobby. The proper location of refuge rooms, and recommended methods of construction, blacking-out, and gas proofing are also shown.

Museum Hours: Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Sunday, 10 A. M. to 4 P. M.; Saturday, 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. Closed Mondays. Admission, 25 cents.

In the Koda Planetarium—"Balls and Bombs from Space." Only a few minutes of watching the sky on any clear evening will usually give a view of a "shooting star" or meteor. These are the nearest of heavenly objects, for when we see them they are actually in our atmosphere, only a few dozen miles high. Many millions of these a day pieces of iron and steel survive their flashing trip through the atmosphere and reach the earth from outside space. These are called meteorites. They may be indiscernible specks of dust, or they may be chunks weighing many ounces, pounds or even tons. The fall of such objects actually results in damage and horror, and produces results which can be traced for many centuries. Demonstrations every day at 3 and 8:30 P. M., extra shows Saturdays, Sundays and holidays at 4 P. M.; children's hour Saturday at 11 A. M. Adults admitted.
